Dear Mr. Walls,

Removing the restrictions of the use of PVC and ABS pipe and fittings is a bad idea and bad for the environment. PVC and ABS are combustible and were not meant to replace cast iron pipe and fittings which are not combustible. Plastic piping was not made to be recycled unlike cast iron which can be melted down and remade. If you care about public safety and the environment do not remove the restrictions of PVC and ABS. Show the environment some love.

Concerned,
