Welcome to the Statewide Property Inventory (SPI)

State Agency Website

Government Code Section 11011.15 et seq. (Assembly Bill 3932) and Executive Order S-10-04 require the Department of General Services (DGS) to maintain a complete and accurate Statewide Property Inventory of all property, assets and leases held by the State of California. Additionally, the government code requires the following to be accomplished by agencies having control and possession of real property:

- Each agency is to furnish DGS with a record of each parcel of Real Property and each Structure possessed by the agency.
- Each agency is to update its Real Property and Structure records by July 1 of each year and reflect any changes to those records.
- Each agency is to review all leases and provide complete reporting of their lease inventory in compliance with guidelines issued by the Department of General Services.

To assist agencies in complying with this annual verification requirement, DGS has developed an Internet website where each agency can view its entire property inventory and run a variety of reports in printable versions as well as Excel spreadsheet format which can be exported and formatted as desired.

Currently under development and scheduled for release in the Spring of 2006 is an expansion to the website which will include an interactive interface to allow agencies to add, change or delete SPI data online and enable two-way communication between users and DGS staff.

SYSTEM USER INFORMATION

User Account: Each designated user within a department or agency has a User ID and password established within the system. At the time the User ID was established, certain user authorizations were also assigned. Access to the data on the website is dependent upon each user's authorization.

Login/Logoff: After using your login name and password, and completing your use of the site, it is very important to log off by clicking on the "Logoff" link at the bottom of the Content Browser window. As with any user name and password, it is crucial to keep this information private for security and privilege purposes.

Content Browser: The Content Browser is a web-enabled interface that provides a virtual desktop to gain access to the content individual users are authorized to view. Each of the SPI property types is displayed as a folder on the left side of the Content Browser and summary level property data is displayed on the right.

Navigating the Website: Complete instructions for using the various tools available on the website to search, sort, run reports and spreadsheets, and obtain location maps are provided under Attachment A. A listing of all of the fields available on the website and their location is provided under Attachment B.

Allow Pop-Ups: Using Internet Explorer:
1. In the browser, click on the Tools menu and select Pop-Up Blocker → Pop-Up Blocker Settings.
2. In the field for Address of website to allow, enter www.spi.dgs.ca.gov and click add, then close.

Using Netscape:
1. Go to the SPI website.
2. Go to the Tools menu and select Options.
3. Click on the Site Controls option.
4. On the Site List tab, under Master Settings, select “I Trust This Site.” After selecting this, the Web Features for this option will be shown. The user should make sure that the checkbox next to “Allow Unrequested Pop-Up Windows” is checked off.
5. Click OK.

INFORMATION AVAILABLE VIA THE CONTENT BROWSER

All Properties: The All Properties folder provides data on Land, Leases, Structures, and Surplus Property. By selecting All Properties on the Content Browser, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many properties) on all of the SPI data for which they are authorized.

NOTE: Because the All Properties section provides reports for all property types, each of which has its own individual formatting, the Excel export feature is not available from this folder. Excel exports are available in each of the folders for individual property types.

Land Records: Real Property is defined as a single parcel or a group of parcels of land that have a common purpose and name. By selecting Land Records, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many properties) on all real property records within SPI for which they are authorized.

Land Record Reports include information on the use and historical value of the property and contain links to data on parcels and structures associated with the real property.

Parcel History Reports provide a standard report listing the historical and transaction information pertaining to a parcel of land acquired for a specific purpose or program for the State. Structure Reports are described below.

Leases:

For SPI purposes, a Type 1 lease is defined as a lease where the State is the tenant and a private company (a non-state entity) is the lessor. A Type 2 lease is defined as a lease where the State is the lessor (the owner of the property) and the lessee is a private company or another State agency.

Most of the Type 1 leases are for some type of space the State will be occupying. Subleases, use permits, right of way agreements, and licenses are also considered leases.

Lease Reports include the terms of the lease, transaction information and structure data. By selecting Leases, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many leases) on all lease records within SPI for which they are authorized.

Structures:

Structures within SPI include Buildings, Improvements and Land Leases.

Buildings:

By selecting Buildings, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many buildings) on all "building" structure records within SPI for which they are authorized.

Improvements:

By selecting Improvements, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many improvements) on all "Improvement" structure records within SPI for which they are authorized. Examples of such improvements are roads, bridges, curbs and gutters, streets and sidewalks, drainage and lighting systems.

Land Leases:

A Land Lease is an agreement, written or unwritten, transferring the right to exclusive possession and use of real estate for a definite period of time. In effect, the lease is a combination of both a conveyance (to transfer the right of occupancy) and a contract (to pay rent and assume other obligations).

By selecting Land Leases, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many land leases) on all "Land Lease" structure records within SPI for which they are authorized.

All Structures: By selecting All Structures, the user will be able to sort, search, view and run reports on all structure records State owned and leased within SPI for which they are authorized. A standard report provides the historical and transaction information pertaining to State owned structures or improvements.

Surplus: By selecting Surplus, the user will be able to sort, search, view, run reports, and obtain location maps (for many surplus properties) on all surplus property records within SPI for which they are authorized. The reports include contact and marketing information as well as photographs of properties for sale by DGS and links to the seller's website for properties for sale by other agencies.

SPI Public: In Fiscal Year 2004/2005, an SPI Public Internet website was developed to provide summary-level information to the public and to be used as a marketing tool to facilitate the sale of State surplus property. A link to the public site is provided on the Content Browser.

The public website lists all property held by the State with the exception of properties and structures considered sensitive due to homeland security and law enforcement concerns.

The SPI public website consists of three complex searchable screens with record selectable reporting from each screen. Five report layouts are currently in production.

NOTE: Excel exports are not available on the Public Site; however, a string of hard-copy reports can be generated by selecting multiple properties.

All Surplus Properties: By selecting All Surplus Properties, users can view, run reports and obtain location maps (for many properties) on surplus properties statewide regardless of the selling agency.

DGS Surplus List: By selecting DGS Surplus list, users can view, run reports and obtain location maps (for many properties) as well as obtain marketing information and photographs of properties for sale by DGS.

List of all Properties:

By selecting List of All Properties, users can view, run reports and obtain location maps (for many properties) on summary-level data for all State agencies.

Navigating the Web Site

Please click on the  for full instructions on the use of this web site.

To move through the data:

- Moves data one page forward.
- Moves data one page backward.
- Advances to the last page of properties.
- Returns to the first page of properties.

To sort:

Click on any column heading to sort. Additional sorts are possible by continuing to click on column headings.

To clear a sort:

Click on the scissors icon to clear a sort. A new sort is now possible.

To search:

To perform a search, click on the binoculars icon to clear the table. Input the desired value(s) under the appropriate column(s). For example, enter a County and a Property Type.

Partial searches can be performed in two ways, both using the wildcard character (*) by entering value* or *value. For example, searching cities by San* would locate cities beginning with “San”, including San Francisco or Santa Barbara. Searching for *nta would locate cities that contain “nta” including Santa Barbara or Mountain View.

Searches cannot contain two “*” symbols (example: “*value*”) produces no results. Searches are not case sensitive.

Once the search value is specified, click on the spyglass icon to initiate the search.

If no records match the search value, a message will be displayed indicating “Could not find the requested data”.

To clear a search, click on the spyglass icon again.

To Export Data to Excel:

Select one or several properties by clicking in the checkboxes on the left margin of the table, OR

Select all properties of a specific type by clicking on this icon.

Export data to an Excel Spreadsheet by clicking on this icon.
