Dear Dave Walls,

My name is Terry Church and I live in Petaluma, CA. I am extraordinarily pleased — and relieved — by the new greywater code for the state of California, and think the no-permit requirement for washing machine and single fixture systems is a very important aspect of the code. This will make simple greywater systems economical for Californians seeking to conserve water. The 12 requirements for the no- permit systems will protect environmental and public health, while supporting greywater reuse.

Because we, as a society, are so far behind the curve in water conservation, it's important that we implement practices encouraging lifestyles more attuned to the single-looped system (earth and its environs) we are all dependent upon. Please keep intact the the "no- permit systems" part of the code, and continue in this direction of removing barriers for simple sustainable practices.

Thank you very much.

Sincerely,
Terry Church
