Department	Please provide info and tips to bidders you would like me to share:
California Military Department	Most of our public works require between 5 - 10% DVBE subcontracting. Because our projects are throughout the entire state, research is conducted to see if there are enough SB/DVBE in the service area to limit the bids only SB giving a 5% DVBE incentive.
Department of General Services (DGS)	<ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Listen closely to what State Representatives (especially Contracts/Acquisitions Analysts) have to say during the Pre-Bid Site Inspections. They've seen bids rejected for various reasons (i.e., incomplete forms, prime and/or sub not being registered at DIR, not listing the kind of work the subs are providing, etc.) and preventing these material deviations can help you avoid making the small mistakes that could cost you a contract award. 2. If in doubt, ask question(s) and get answers to your questions in writing. Verbal information is not legally binding. 3. Subscribe to email blasts from State Agencies (such as the Contractor's State License Board (CSLB), the Department of Industrial Relations (DIR), etc) so that you're on top of law changes that could affect contractors.
Department of Water Resources (DWR)	I suggest checking out the statutorily mandated, and information packed, CA Water Plan (CWP) that is updated every 5 years. The CWP frames existing water-related issues in their historical context and, more importantly, maps out the future of DWR's high priority projects. The attached 2015 Update [link here] gives a very condensed snapshot of CWP's recent accomplishments and future goals, plus it provides a fairly lengthy list of links to useful websites that can be used to drill down into more specific subsets of the overall plan.

Department	Explain how subcontractor's gain access to the Pre-bid Walkthrough Roster:
California Military Department	Job walks are mandatory on all public works projects contracted by the Military Department. Attendee sign in and sign out. The attendance sheet is then loaded on the e-procure website.
Department of General Services (DGS)	I understand this to mean "sign-in sheets from a Pre-Bid Site Inspection." This is the document that each bidding Prime Contractor and Subcontractor in attendance at a Pre-Bid Site inspection signs upon arrival. When a solicitation is posted to the CSCR (whether formal or informal), we have the ability to post documents such as sign-in sheets. In these cases, the sign-in sheets are accessible on the Internet. When a CSCR advertisement is not utilized (invitations to select bidders), the sign-in sheets are retained in the contract file and distributed (via fax or email) to individuals such as subcontractors as requests are received by our office.
San Francisco State University (SFSU)	They gain access through Planet Bids. I also send a mass email to DVBE Contractors (based on the license), informing them about the bid opportunity and how to register on Planet Bids for free so they can access the bid information.
