The DSA is one of several state agencies that propose changes to the California Building Standards Code, as contained in Title 24 of the CCR, through the Building Standard Commission's rulemaking process. Regulations and building standards proposed by DSA are approved and adopted by the California Building Standards Commission, which maintains the California Building Standards Code. The Commission's web site <http://www.bsc.ca.gov/Home.aspx> contains information on the code adoption process, proposed amendments and code publications.
